Course code: SPN 302

Total contact hours: 60 hours

Pre-requisite: SPN 301, Advanced I

Course Overview

In this course, students should be able to interact with language proficiency in situations of personal, social and public life. Using the language with linguistic nuances and idiomatic expressions, as well as colloquial forms applied properly, with precision and ease. Understand any interlocutor even when dealing with abstract and complex issues, hold a conversation with native speakers face-to-face, and fully understand lectures and presentations. They should be able to handle themselves in specialized contexts with comfort, and are expected to interact and provide opinions on the matter.

This course answers the question: How to produce speeches in Spanish in a clear, fluid, structured and logical way, to achieve effective communication in a different sociocultural context and solve complex situations?

To answer this question, the following topics will be studied:

- Accurately and fluently narrate personal and public events.
- Describe situations, people, places, and objects in great detail.
- Express opinions on abstract topics with ease.
